Personal Bio ---

Joey Cooper, Artistic Director, Choreographer, Dancer, Instructor, Writer, Designer --- the young man seems to wear so many hats, but none more proudly then Student. In all the years he has spent creating and teaching he himself has spent his life time thus far soaking up and learning from every experience he's been through. Always the imaginative mind, Joey's often seen as the forward thinker, the fearless treaded in unknown territory, and one never to do the expected --- those things have made him the standout in all things he does. A man to always put the artistry in all things he's pursued Joey has consistently sought to bring higher and more purposeful meaning and connection to the entertainment industry. Feeling most alive while in his creative process Joey feels that to display ones deepest and most honest desires, fears, and emotions are what makes us incredible as human beings --- thus giving us the courage to share what we've made and continue cutting new paths to greatness. Always thankful for every lesson learned Joey simply wishes 2 share what he knows in the hopes it will be beneficial to a greater good beyond himself.

"The bravest act we can do is be ourselves, because that is what is constantly questioned and scrutinized and asked to be changed first. I'm here to say unapologetically, this is me in all of my imperfections...which technically isn't imperfect since there is only one me, made just this way, as was intended & could be no other, and I'm just fine with that idea, it took a long time to get to that place...that idea, and I'm honored, and humbled to be there."

You can find Joey dancing, performing, and creating with his dance company 2wisted Elegance L.A. co-founded by the company's original creator Jaret Hughes's, who runs Twisted Elegance from Seattle Washington. Together these two young men continue to set the standard for excellence in their stylistic efforts to set the stage on fire, and as they say "snatch off wigs," in the process. Joey is currently a resident of North Hollywood California working every day toward his goals and professional pursuits.
